Who We Are

When Jim Bryan founded the Beachcomber in 1976, he had one mission: to help those who suffered with the pain of alcohol and drug addiction. Over 45 years later, our facilities continue to operate with the same efficiency and compassion that Jim Bryan originally envisioned. Only now we have expanded our resources in order to better assist those in need. The Beachcomber offers both outpatient and residential services at three locations in South Florida, serving both Palm Beach and Broward County.

Like a tree spreading its branches, the Beachcomber Outpatient program is a natural extension of our residential program. Frank and Jim Bryan, the sons of our original founder, oversee the development of our new facilities. The third generation of the family has also come on board, with Eric Bryan as the Assistant Director at our Ft. Lauderdale location. With facilities in Ft Lauderdale, Boynton Beach and Delray Beach area, the Beachcomber is one of the oldest privately owned addiction treatment facilities in the state of Florida. Moreover, it continues to be a family business that is owned and operated by the Bryan family for over 45 years.
